What are the attributes of master teachers?

Kane, Sanretto & Heath \(2004\) examined what a group of excellent science teachers say and do about their teaching practice. As you read through their paper consider the following questions based on the paper.

- What is excellent teaching?
- What are the attributes of “master teachers”?
- How does this apply to your teaching? To teaching in your discipline?

Time to consider if and how this applies to your and other disciplines.

Consider the following questions and post some initial thoughts to the “Master Teachers” discussion forum.

1. Are the “master teacher” attributes identified by Kane et al (2004) applicable to your teaching, discipline and context? Why? Why not?
2. What attributes are present in your teaching and the practice of master teachers you know.
